

Monitoring Service: Guidance and accountability to stay on track.

Treatment is just the beginning of the journey. What's next?

Transition to after care is critical; statistics for long term sobriety increase substantially the longer one stays engaged in a managed therapeutic plan.

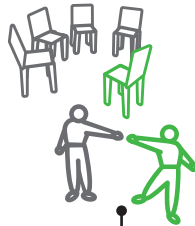

ARS mediates the relationship between the person in recovery and the family.

Transitions to an appropriate housing situation are coordinated which may include residence in a sober living home.*

12 step programming and sponsorship are facilitated and tracked.

Accountability is managed through regular check ins and drug testing.

On-going counseling is coordinated for the person in recovery and the family.

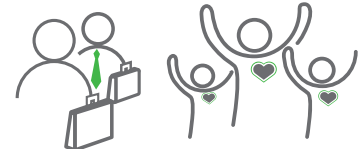

Family meetings and ongoing therapeutic assignments support the family in their recovery.

Progress reporting benefits sustained recovery and family healing.

Integration is supported with job placement assistance (and more).

Equipped with sober living tools and a solid plan, the family and person in recovery continue a long-term healthy lifestyle.
